Seven men are to-day contesting three positions on the Students' Council. Ther are contests in the Faculties of Arts and Science and in the Deparment of Commerce. In the other faculties the representatives were returned by acclamation. The polling will start at 9.00 a.m. and close at 5.00 p.m. and will be held for Science at the Engineering Building and for Arts and Commerce at tht Arts Building.

The men who are returned by accalmation are; Rev. Puddicombe, of Law, Art Manson of Medicine and Arthur Goodnot of Dentistry.

Herbert Hurphy, H. Burton Bywell and Frank M. Godine are the contestants in the faculty of Arts. In Comerce Ney Gordon and Jack Mickles are the opposing candidates, while in Science Loyd Almond and Doug. Converse are the nominees.

During the past week each of the candidates has been very busy campaigning. Practically every class in each of the faculties concerned has been addressed at some time or other by each of the contestants. An active poster campaign was especially noticeable, there being three candidates in Arts and two in Commerce. The walls of the Arts Building have been so decorated with invocations to the electorate as to elicit the praise even of passing professors.

The elections have been placed under the charge of the various undergraduate societies who are responsible for the conduct of the elections. In all faculties the polling will close at 5.00 p.m.

PROF. B.K. SANDWELL AT "LIT" THURSDAY

"Utility of Bad Literature" Will Be Discussed

Prof. B.K. Sandwell of Queen's University, formerly professor of economics at McGill, will address the Literary and Debating Society at a meeting to be held in the main assembly room of Strathcona Hall on Thursday evening in connection with Canada Book Week. This announcement has been received with enthusiastic comment in various circles around McGill. Not only, is Prof. Sandwell who left McGill as recently as May 1923, well known around the campus but many students who were associated with him during his stay here, express themselves as keenly interested in the vital subject with which Prof. Sandwell will deal at the "Lit" meeting. The topic chosen is "The Utility of Bad Literature."

The gathering will mark the second of a group of meetings arranged by the Literary and Debating Society with a view to the encouragement of an interest in things literary, as well as argumentative.

A large turnout of students is expected in order that the "Lit", which had such an enthusiastic and interesting inauguration at its last meeting, might be further carried on to a success which the executive is attempting to make of it.

TED NEWTON BACK FROM CONVENTION

Attended Gathering of Union Presidents From all Over Continent

GREAT SUCCESS

Many Ideas for Union Activities Discussed in Deliberations

"The convention decisively showed that the student union in its concrete form definitely established itself as an integral part of almost every university on the Continent," said F. M. Newton the President of the McGill Union, who has returned from the convention of College and University unions, held in Philadelphia recently, where he represented McGill and her views to representatives of colleges all over the continent. This convention is held each year for the purpose of exchanging ideas and suggestions on the management and maintainance of college unions. This year the convention had nation-wide representation. students appearing from almost every state in the Union from the Atlantic to the Pacific, besides two members from the leading Canadian Universities. The Pacific coast and mid-west of the United States were well represented, while the southern and eastern state Universities sent representatives almost to a man. The delegates from Canada were T. F. M. Newton for McGill and Mr. Bickerstath for Hart House, Toronto.

Numerous opinions and ideas were exchanged, dealing with unions in general. The conduct of various activities under direct control of unions was also discussed. Assistance in the form of suggestions as to the nature of Unions, was given to several large universities, who are about to commence the erection of new union buildings such as Princeton, Utah, Columuia, Oregon and others.

While the conference was marked by several spirited aldresses and attractive events, the outstanding feature of it, was the fact that it was decisively shown that a great addition of interest is being evinced in student welfare work all over the continent. Besides the other student activities, plans were published by almost half a dozen of the universities present, for the construction of new student unions. In some cases the cost was estimated to be about one million dollars.

The most famous and perhaps the most active figure of the convention was Dr. Pase of the U. S. Government Education Board, who is the most outstanding educational figure in the United States in recent years. He welcomed, especially the representatives of the Candian Universities, Toronto and McGill, who came to prove that "there were no boundary lines to them in the scope of welfare work among the students of the continent".

The McGill representative was royally entertained at the U. of Penn. Union, the Houston Club. He was an honoured spectator at the Pennsylvania—Cornell game on Thanksgiving Day which the former team won by the score of 20-0. He was also present at the banquet tendered the convention by theMask and Wig Club of the University at their nolvel club rooms, besides being guast at the U. of Penn's huge Junior Prom, on Friday night.

While the convention itself was a great success, the real benefit of it will be seen during the year when the suggestions discussed will be put into practical effect. At the loss of the conference it was announced that the next convention would be held at Purdue University.

PSYCHOLOGISTS TO HEAR DR. LIGHTHALL

"The Outer Consciousness" is Subject For Address

The Psychological Society has planned a programme of note for this evening. Dr. W.D. Lighthall K.C., L.L.D., F.R.S.C., R.R.S.I. a prominent Montreal advocate, will adress the club on "The Outer Consciousness."

Dr. Lighthall, who has lived in Montreal the greater part of his life, is a graduate of Montreal High School and McGill University. While at college he had a very brilliant career graduating as Shakespeare Gold Medallist.

He was called to the Quebec Bar in 1881 and became head of the well-known law firm of Lighthal. and Lighthall. He has been counsel for many estates and corporations, and has always been known as a very clever lawyer. His attention however has been turned to many different kinds of mental occupation. He originated the Society of Cnandian Literature and also the Historical Museum in the Chateau de Ramzay, which is now visited by tourists from all ports of the world.

Dr. Lighthall is one of the Montreal's foremost historians. In 1922 he was a member of the Royal Historical Monuments Commission, and he has written many important historical treatises.

Other important positions that this famous McGill graduate has filled from time-to-time are those of Mayor of Westmount and chairman of the Montreal School Commission.

Dr. Lighthall has done a great deal of standard literary work, as well as being a poet of note. It was he who originated and edited the famous "Songs of the Great Dominion,' among his other works are "Canadian Poems," "Montreal after 250 Years" and "The False Chevalier."

The Psychological Society feels fortunate in securing a distinguished author, lawyer and citizen of Montreal. The subject Dr. Lighthall is speaking on "The Outer Conclousness" is one of great contemporary interest, and a large attendance has been anticipated for the evening.

This meeting is the second of a series of which has been planned by the Society. The first took place on Nov. 3rd. The speaker on this occasion was Dr. R.S. Weir, another prominent Montreaier, and nearly forty members were present.

Many other well-known men have promised to address the Society during the year. In January Dr. J.W. Bridges will be the speaker of the evening and other gentlemen who have agreed to speak are Dr. A.A. Roback, Dr. C.E. Kelleg and Dean Ira A. Mackay of the Faculty of Arts at McGill.

Following the address this evening, the usual discussion will take place on the subject in question. All students of psychology have been invited to attend the meeting, which will begin at 8 o'clock and also all others who are interested in the subject.

UNION HOUSE DANCE PLANS ANNOUNCED

Annual Event Will be Held on Dec. 12th

PRICES REDUCED

Glen Adney's Ritz Carlton Orchestra Has Been Secured

The Union House committee has announced that the Union House Dance will be held on Friday Dec. 12. This is the final dance to be held in 1924 and is formal.

The Junior Prom. was essentially a dance for members of the Junior Year at McGill, but the Union House Dance is open to every undergraduate in the University. In past years both these dances have been recognized as two of the three most important social events of the year. This season the Junior Prom., which was held on Nov. 28th was a great success; but those in charge of the dance next Friday declare that it will far eclipse all the other dances which have been held this year.

It is definitely announced that Glen Adney's Ritz Carlton Orchestra will supply the music for the evening. This orchestra is one of the best in the city and is well known to all McGill men.

Although it is not absolutely certain, it is expected that the price of tickets this year will be reduced from $5.00 to $4.00. These tickets will of course be limited, so that the Ball-

S.C.A. WILL HOLD OPEN MEETING

Mr. Williams, Noted Indian Speaker Will Give Address

Mr. Ariam Williams of Ceylon, India, will be the speaker at an open meeting of the S.C.M. of the R.V.C. on Friday, December the fifth, at 4 o'clock in the S.C.A. club room, Strathcona Hall.

Mr. Williams is a graduate in Arts of Serampore and has done post-graduate work at London, Cambridge and Edinburgh universities. He has long been interested in the Student Movement. This fall he was extremely popular speaker at Elgin House and during the last month he has been studying in colleges in the southern states, plans to study Canadian universities before returning to India after an absence of six years.

It is rarely that McGill students have the privilege of meeting one who can speak with authority on India's struggle for self government and her attitude towards christianity, and above all one who has personally known Mahatma Ghandi, a former student at an English university, a prominent lawyer in South Africa, and the leader of the Non-Cooperation movement in India whom the eyes of the world are focussed—Ghandi the who declared that what he most admired in our western world was the Christ whom we didn't follow. He is called India's Saint, by the masses because of his singleheartedness and purity of life, the Christ of India, who Mr. Ratcliffe formerly of the Manchester Guardian declared, has thrown down a challenge to our western civilization.

It is an opportunity not to be missed. All those who heard Mr. Williams on Sunday will need no further invitation. On Friday the R.V.C. students may meet and question Mr. Williams. Tea will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

The meeting is being held at Strath-

owing to the fact that the R.V.C. Common Room is being used by the Alumnae on Friday afternoon.

COMMERCIAL SOCIETY MET LAST NIGHT

Over Sixty Members Were Present

ELECTIONS HELD

Speaker Was Mr. Luther of Montreal Stock Exchange

The Commercial Society met in the Union Ball Room last night for the second time this term. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Luther of the Montreal Stock Exchange who gave a very enlightening talk on the workings of the Exchange. The meeting was well attended which is forceful evidence of the increasing popularity of the society.

Professor R. R. Thompson and Dr. Day of the Advisory Board of the Society were present and T. Mitchell the President occupied the chair Grant Glassco, the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Nominations were then called for the position of treasurer of the society the President asking that as per ruling the candidates be chosen from the second year. The three men nominated were J. Little, R. W. Hayes and L. Stephenson. Voting was by ballot and Stephenson was declared elected the choice being a popular one. Judging by the ovation the announcement was received. The president then spoke a few words on the excellent showing of the men in Commerce in athletics this year. He congratulated the Commerce Interfaculty Rugby team on its fine showing and also highly praised the several Commerce men who turned in excellent performances on the Senior team. Mitchell then introduced the speaker of the evening Mr. Luther.

The speaker began by describing the workings of the exchange in a general way, and then went on to tell of the business transacted in the house. The floor of the Exchange declared Mr. Luther was marked out with white lines to indicate certain selling zones. Each or several secorities were assigned a certain zone and transaction in there stocks could be carried on only within this zone. This inovation was introduced to avoid confusion that was likely to arise on days of brisk business. Mr. Luther then discussed the feature known as margin trading and went to say that it was decidedly not a totally gambling proposition, but rather an investment.

The speaker dwelt on every feature and aspect of the stock exchange and brought out many interesting points regarding the technecalities of the game. Probably the most interesting pieces of information that he related was the fact that conditions in business can be clearly foretold by the fluctuations in the prices of stock. there were many cases, declared the speaker, where business depression and unemployment had been augured by fall in prices on the exchange. He pointed out the case of the panic of 1907 in New York when the prices fell steadily before the crash came.

A motion of thanks was tendered to the speaker for his very interesting lecture and the members then adjourned to the cafeteria for an appetizing luncheon.

EGYPT IS SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION

Historical Club Reviews Nationalism in Land of Pyramids

TWO ADDRESSES

Hayes And Hoover Read Papers On Pertinent Topic

Egyptian nationalism and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan were the subjects of last night's discussion at the Historical Club meeting, held at the residence of Prof. W.T. Waugh. The evening's speakers were S. Hayes and D. B. Wilson, but the latter being slightly under the weather, his paper was read by Hoover, one of the new members of the club.

Hayes sketched the history of Egypt in the first part of his talk running over the principal dates in the political development of this country.

In 1875 for the first time a European country took a real interest in Egypt; this was the purchasing of the British government from the bankrupt Kedive of the controlling shares of the Suez canal. Thus England was finally compelled, in order to safeguard the great gateway to the East, to, assume a dominant position in the affairs of Egypt and particularly her foreign dealings.

Egypt finally became a virtual British colony. There was accordingly, for the ordinary fellah, merely a shifting of governing bodies. The Egyptian himself had, for many years, no actual determining voice in the government of their country. The nationalist movement, which was described in some detail by Hayes is a new phenomenon, and in view of the present difficulties due to the assasination of Sir Lee Stack, is bound to have a stormy and precarious future, the ultimate result of which is highly indeterminate.

However, in reading Wilson's paper brought out the principal points in connection with the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. This is a large amount of territory, about one million square miles in area; about half the population is negriod. There is moreover, no connection between the peoples of this country and those of Egypt. The control of the Sudan is essential to the protection of British financial interests and Suez Canal. The people are benefitting from a British irrigation system and would dislike greatly to see this abandoned.

After the papers had been read, was a discussion which lasted so late that it had to be interrupted in order to adjourn the meeting. Besides Professors Williams and Waugh and several members of the club, Mr. Williams, a visiting student originally from Ceylon took an interesting part in the discussion. Mr. Williams was made an honorary member of the Historical Club.

"Is telephone operating a trade or a profession?" asks a contemporary. I should describe it as a calling.

McGILL MUSIC CLUB WILL HOLD MUSICALE

On Sunday Dec. 14th, at 3 p. m. a musicale will be held under the auspices of the McGill Music Club in the Ballroom of the Union. Well known McGill musicians will perform, and the new Knabe grand piano, purchased by the club from the funds raised at the recent Burke Concert, will be used for the first time.

Members of the club will give piano and violin solos, and plans are being made to have some famous singer perform at the recital. Several numbers will be played by the string quartette of which the Club is very proud.

All students are invited to attend the Musicale and bring any of their friends along with them. The program will be of a very high quality and all those who attend will be assured of excellent entertainment.

FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN OF S.C.A. BEGINS

Results From Faculty Campaign Are Encouraging

BUDGET SUBMITTED

Canvass Begins in all Faculties To-morrow For All Week

To-morrow tht annual financial campaign of the S. C. A. will start and will extend until Wednesday, Dec., 10th. Under the able management of D. R. Logan arrangements have been made to canvas all students of every faculty. At present canvassing is being carried on among the members of the faculty, and at the close of the second day results were very encouraging. In the past the money collected from the professors and students has gone a long way towards meeting the needs of the Association. This year the management hopes that the contributions will be sufficiet to obviate the necessity of calling upon outside assistance.

In response to several queries the following extract from last year's budget has been submitted:—

Expenditure
Upkeep of office	$ 300.00
Student secretary	$1200.00
Study Groups	$ 75.00
Meetings	$ 200.00
Conversat and freshman reception	$ 90.00
Conferences	$ 300.00
National S. C. M. and World Students Christian Federation	$1200.00
Total	$3385.00

The following is the budget of the S. C. A. of R. V. C. whose campaign is also being carried on this week:—

Receptions	$ 20.00
General Expenses	$ 27.65
Conferences	$ 16.00
National S. C. M.	$200.00
To grant from Undergraduat Society	$ 70.00
Balance to be collected	$193.65

"It should be easy for us to cultivate friendships. That is the way to gain the opportunities of intercourse which we seek throughout the world. We are a peaceful people and it is well for us to remember that we rely on friendship and good will, not on force or threats of force, to extend our influence and win adherence to our international proposals." — Charles Evans Hughes.

"War? It is the price of extreme nationalism. Frontiery must go. Europe must have no differences greater than the beneficial rivalries existing between the sections of United States before war can disappear. It is a price too heavy to pay under the present methods of warfare."—Israel Zangwill.—Ex.

OLD SCOUTS' CLUB MET LAST NIGHT

E. Russell Paterson Spoke on Scout Reform

The Old Scouts Club met last night in Room B. Strathcona Hall. About twenty sat down to a baked bean supper. The meetings of the club are held the first Tuesday of every month, and told what his connection was with member rose and introduced himself.

Immediately after the supper each the scouts and to what troop he formerly belonged. H Aikman then introduced the speaker Mr. E. Russell Paterson who is Honourary President of the Club and General Secretary for this province.

The subject was the need for reform in Canadian Scoutdom, and the ways that the club can help.

The scouts have occupied their system from the English. Unfortunately the conditions in Canada are very different, and require adaption. Our long winters make outside activities difficult. The social organization is unlike those that the scheme was designed to meet. Badge qualifications are not high enough to be worth-while.

There is a need for more extensive and thorough training in woodcraft—"Backwoodsmanship." Better leadership must be found; and there are many gaps for Scoutmasters at this moment. Wider activities must be found for the "Rovers" (16 years and upwards) who are in a semi-organized condition. It was pointed out that McGill men, though they have little time for active work, may help a great deal by their experienced judgment. Many other points were touched on in the talk, which was most ably delivered.

After Mr. Paterson had finished Aikman, the president, spoke briefly on the seascouts, to whom he belongs.

A debate was arranged for the next meeting as follows:—

"That winter activities be entirely indoors. P. LL. Smith and Wallie Whitehead will speak for the affirmative; H. T. Airey and P. Matthams for the negative. All four are seasoned old-timers, highly competent to consider the subject.

UNION INSTALLING SHOE-SHINE STAND

High Polish Available on Short Notice

It was announced last night by Union House officials that another convenience hd been added to the Union Service scheme. During the next month, students will be not only well fed, but decently and cleanly shod. A Montreal firm has undertaken the contract to run a shoe-shine establishment in the basement, and if the scheme proves successful it will become permanent.. No more hustling to St. Catherine Street between lectures; no more fake shines (without polish) in the Physics Building will be necessary. The arrangement accomodates two men, so that there will be little waiting.

A hat-blorking and cleaning branch will be included. Patrons may buy tickets in advance, and are given a discount on quantities.

The stand will open on Thursday (to-morrow). If it is well patronized it will become permanent, so the House Committee has urged the students to help establish it and the lower prices and better prices, and better service which go with it.

THE ART OF CONVERSATION

Someone once said that not to be able to talk well is to miss one of the highest privileges that make life worth living, because society is based upon mutual intercourse, and intercourse is impossible without the gift of conversation. Since then, however, the world has made enormous strides, in social custom as well as in science. In the days of Johnson or Coleridge, profound thought and fluent address made one always the centre of an admiring throng. But passing ages have seen a change. No longer is intelligent conversation the key for admission into the best society. To shine among the bright lights of the social world one need not be able to talk well; in fact the art to-day is frowned upon as something unnecessary and quite out of keeping with the spirit of modern society.

Intelligence too is superfluous. Indeed unless one is possessed of a very keen sense of humour it is a positive hindrance, because any attempt to reconcile it with present day conversation results in utter boredom. People generally are so engrossed in their attempt to talk that they frequently lack time to say anything. "They always talk who never think".

How often are we so unfortunate as to be throw into contact with the young lady whose ambition it is to become a master of conversation, whose tongue functions as though it were pivoted at the middle and loose at both ends, out of whose mouth gushes a stream of words almost as rapid as it is meaningless! The tragedy of it is that the sweet young thing says nothing, and fails to produce the effect she so earnestly desires. How often are we afflicted by the company of the ponderous young man, whose mind is as overburdened with learning as his speech is lacking in originality, in whose conversation correctness and conventionality have left no room for thought! Those people who say nothing because they try to talk too much are as uninteresting as those other people who in general conversation say nothing because they have nothing to say. In fact we sometimes prefer the latter; they are less tiresome.

"Words learned by rote a parrot may rehearse,
But talking is not always to converse."

There are two requisites to intelligent conversation. In the first place one must have something to say, and, failing this, one's mouth should be tightly closed. Society can be roughly divided into three classes according to the three types of conversation that exist. In the lowest class we place those who always talk about people, including themselves. Slightly higher are those who talk about things, clothes, football games, dances, and such like. The noblest type of conversation is conversation about ideals, and about this type we must confess ourselves ignorant, because it is so scanty in this world.

But granted that we have something to say, the next requirement of conversation is the ability to say it, and on that score we have come to the conclusion from this effort that we have no right to offer any advice, so we will not.

TO-DAY'S ELECTIONS

Between the hours of 9.00 a.m. and 5.00 p.m. to-day, students of the faculties of Arts and Science and of the Department of Commerce will choose their representative on the Students' Council. These elections are one of the two most important held during the session, since part of the body of men who govern all student activities are to be chosen to-day. The Students' Council is the sovereign body of McGill undergraduate activity, and all undertakings of importance either emanate directly from it, or are carried out directly under its supervision. Arts, Science and Commerce men are to-day being asked to choose the representatives who are to form an integral part of this important body, and who are to be in part responsible for the conduct of undergraduate activity. They are asked to make their choice with considerable care, but above all to vote, and vote early. The right of franchise is one of our greatest privileges: undergraduates should not neglect their opportunity to exercise it.

MR. VIPOND SPOKE AT ELECTRICAL MEETING

At one o'clock yesterday, the Electrical Club held their first luncheon for this session. Almost every member was present.

During the meal a number of piano selections were played by Grosse, who very kindly volunteered for this service.

Mr. Vipond of the Northern Electric was the speaker. He gave a brief outline of wire-and-cable manufacture at his plant. A detailed description of the various types of cables and their insulation, was given, and those who recently inspected the works were able to understand more fully the mechanism they had seen.

The executive of the Club have expressed their appreciation of the courtesy of the Northern Electric Company officials, and the interesting trip they afforded.

SOCCER

The Annual Banquet of the McGill Soccer Club will be held at the Union to-day, at 7 o'clock.

All players who have turned out for practice during the past season are invited to attend. A general meeting will be held immediately after the Dinner, when a brief report of this year's activities will be presented and the officers for next year will be appointed. It is essential that every man in the University who is interested in Soccer should attend. Will all those who have not already announced their intentions to attend, communicate with Schleifer at Strathcona Hall. Up. 1086 when they will receive the necessary information.

ALLIANCE FRANCAISE

Le Comite de l'Alliance Francaise de Montreal vous prie d'assister a la conference de Monsieur Gaston Giraud, Attache Commercial de l'Indochine pour les Etats-Unis et le Canada.

CLASS GROUPS

A tentative schedule for the taking of class groups is printed below. Class presidents are requested to confirm the suggested hours by getting in touch either with the photograph editor or the Business manager of the Annual AT ONCE at the Union.

A fee of seven dollars ($7.00) will be collected at the time that the group is taken. This covers both the cost of the negative and insertion in the annual (full page). Proofs will be on view at the Annual Board room. Through a special arrangement groups pictures, when ordered through the Annual Board, will be obtainable at the reduced rate of ONE DOLLAR. This is a saving of twenty-five cents per copy, over last year. It will be necessary for the class president to remit in advance for the pictures desired, in order that this substantial saving may be effected. The pictures will be taken in front of the respective buildings.

FIFTY ASPIRANTS FOR JUNIOR SQUAD

Large Attendance at First Hockey Practice

The finest junior hockey practice was held at the new Forum yesterday aftern and judging from the interest shown at this work-out, every thing augurs well for the junior squad. Well over fifty aspirants were in uniform and all were given an opportunity to show their wares although it was only the first practice of the season, there were quite a number who showed remarkably good form and will make a very formidable squad after a few more practices.

Coach Shaughnessy divided the men into eight squads ad sent, two groups in against each other in succession. Every squad had a couple of promising men.

Some remarkable bursts of speeds were uncorked, considering the fact that for all the players, it was their first try-out on ice this year. The players' greatest fault seemed to be in overskating the puck, while others had great difficulty in keeping their feet, but all in all, the practice brought out the fact that there were several promising players among the junior ranks.

Last years junior had a fine record and yesterday's practice showed, that there is every reason to believe that the 1924-25, team will equal it. Certainly interest in junior hockey is not lacking, if yesterday's practice stands for anything. The next junior practice will be announced in the "Daily".

MACCABAEAN CIRCLE TO HOLD SYMPOSIUM

A symposium, of which the subject is "The Chosen People" is to be the feature of next meeting of the Maccabaean Circle which will take place in the ball-room of the McGill Union, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The subject is to be handled from all aspects. The "Chosen people" idea will be discussed not only in its relations to ancient Jerusalem, but all down through history, right up to "one hundred per cent Americanism and Nordic supremacy." In fact, every phase of the subject will be touched upon by the three speakers, who will be Jack Spector, B.A., Nathan Reich, Arts '25, and Harold Freeman B.A., men well-known in the Macabaean Circle. An interesting discussion is expected on this subject, which is indeed a novel one.

The musical part of the programme will be in the form of a cello selection rendered by Willie Katz, accompanied by Miss Anne Kramer at the piano.

MANDOLIN CLUB IS ARRANGING PROGRAMME

A practice of the Mandolin Club was held last night in Peate's Music Room on St. Catherine street. About twenty men turned out most of whom played Mandolin, althoun there were a few present with violins and horns. The Club practices under the direction of Mr. Kent of Ottawa.

The pieces played were, Rinold Driftwood, Ten for two, San, Schoolmates, Buddies March. White Star March and McGill Medly. The Club is coming along very well, but progress will be held up unless each member be in attendance at 7.30 so as to have as much time for practice as possible. The Rehearsals are held every Tuesday night.

KNOCKER OR BOOSTER — WHICH?

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and short-coming; who does actually strive to do deeds; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievment, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Two men met in the street one day.

"Hullo, Bill," said one, "I 'aven't seen you for weeks! But what's wrong? You're lookin' seedy. Been ill?"

The other passed his hand across his brow "No, I ain't been ill," he replied; "it's work what's doin' for me—work from eight in the mornin' till six at night, and only one hour off. Think of it!"

"Awful!" agreed the first. "And 'ow long 'ave you been there?"

"I ain't been there yet," explained Bill, gloomily; "begin tomorrow."

THEOLOGICAL UNDERGRADS

A meeting of the Theological Undergraduate Society will be held tonight in the Union at 8 o'clock. Prof. Ariam Williams who has been studying in Edinburgh and who is now on his way to Vancouver, thence to Ceylon, will be the speaker. Refreshments will be served.

BIG GATHERING OF NEWFOUNDLANDERS

Plans For Skating Party and Annual Dance Discussed

The Newfoundland Club met at the Union yesterday evening, and a record crowd was in attendance. Many of the new arrivals in college this year were present at the gathering, and added much to the enthusiasm of the members present.

The chair was occupied by Bert Wells, Law '26, who acted in his capacity as president.

It was decided that the next function of the club take the form of a sleigh drive and supper, while plans for skating Party an Annual Dance were discussed. The dates are as yet undecided.

The evenings entertainment was completed with a supper put up in "Pierre's" own distinctive style.

Marriages In Heaven According to Pastor of a Chicago Church. Chicago, Nov. 17—There is hope for the bachelor and bachelor maids, for there are marriages in heaven, according to Rev. Walker Brown Murray, pastor of the Kenwood New church, here. However, no children are born in heaven, Rev. Murray said in his sermon on "The Beauty of Marriage."

"Marriage is the perfect state of happiness, therefore all persons should marry," Rev. Murray held. "If they do not marry in earth they will find perfect mates in heaven."

"In heaven no children are born," he said, "though there is a continuation of the marriage relationship in every way."

PLATFORM

Born — Ways Mills P. Que. Came to McGill in 1922 from Stanstead College Photographic Editor "Old McGill" 1926.

Have always taken keen interests in class and Undergraduate affairs as a whole.

Having been honoured with nomination as candidate for Science Representative for the Students' Council I have decided to incorporate the following points in my platform.

1. University Book Store

Books are a very important item especially in Science. It will be my aim, if honoured with election to try and establish a Book Store financed and controlled by the Council but managed by two or more students who are working their way through college. A small profit would be allowed them. This would not only lower the cost of books but also help out two or more students in need.

2. Annual Board

Hitherto the members of the Annual Board have been personally and individually responsible financially if the Annual was not a success in this respect. This is not fair since the members of the Board are elected by the student body from the student body as a whole. I should endeavour to make the Annual an item to be under the control of the Student's Council although the work be carried out by a Committee elected as has been done in the past. Any revenue derived would thus be turned back to the Student body by supporting some activity which is worthy and in need of financial assistance.

3. The Literary and Debating Society is worthy of better support and recognition.

H. B. BYDWELL.

Arts candidate for the Students' Council.

PLATFORM

1. Impartial representation. I wish to particularly stress the fact that I am not nominee of any particular group. My nomination was signed by men of all shades of opinion. If elected I shall welcome recommendations and advice from all sections of the student body.

2. Cheaper text books. I am in a position through financial connections with a well known book store adjacent to the college, to obtain text books at a considerably reduced rate. Also it is my intention to support the $5.00 levy but to oppose ny further unnecessary appropriation of money.

3. In addition to these, if given the mandate, I shall endeavour to promote college spirit among the first and second years by giving them a larger share in the carrying on of student activities and clubs. If the lower class men were given more responsibility and representation on student executives and had more personal contact with senior men, they would show keener interest than at present when practically all offices are controlled by upperclassmen. It is my idea to have the men of all years working together. I think if more opportunity were given for seniors, freshmen and sophomores to get together it would be a great thing for the student body.

Biography: Born Toronto 1903. Moved to Montreal 1912. Prep. school Lower Canada. College. Activities: Historical Club: Economics Club; Tennis, Hockey and Rowing Clubs; Mandolin Club; Literary Supplement of McGill Daily.

4. The Song Book

The present Song Book although but recently revised, is far from being perfect. With the exception of "Hail, Alma Mater" and one or two others possibly there is not a real good McGill song in the whole Book. There are a few parodies—good undoubtedly- but not original and there are a large number of "foreign" college songs. It would be my endeavour, if elected, to have some real McGill songs with lots of pep and swing written one way or another. There is lots of latent talent in this University why not encourage it for benefit of the University as a whole.

5. The Glee Club

Another institution or activity worthy of support is the Glee Club. In the past few years its following has been getting less and less. Why caat we make our Glee Club take as prominent affairs in the Undergraduate world as the Glee Clubs of other Universities do in theirs. With proper support a summer trip could be organized and this would be a valuable advertisement for McGill.

6. Entertainment of Visitors

I should like to see a fund established by the ourcil for the entertainments of Visitors. Our men on athletic teams and debating teams, are given a royal time when visiting other colleges. Do we do the same? not to the same extent. One particular case came to my notice recently. On the Sunday following the McGill—Cornell debate here the Council debaters were apparently turned loose on the streets of Montreal to entertain themselves as best as they could. That sort of thing gives the University a black eye and should be stopped.

7. The Daily Advertisers

The merchants of Montreal make it possible for the "Daily" to be published. It is only fair that we should support them. If honoured with election I will endeavour to foster this support.

I take this opportunity of thanking those who nominated me and I promise that if elected to the Council I will do my best to represent the Science Undergrads in a satisfactory way.

COM. '25 DEFEATS COM. '27 IN BASEBALL

The Baseball team of Commerce '25 playing with two men short gave a severe beating to the less experienced team of Commerce '27 who were playing together for the first time. The score was 21-11. The slugging of the Senior combined with the many errors of the opponents accounted for the large number of runs that were piled up in the five innings, the game being called because the majority of players decided, that it would be impossible for them to play longer without dinner.

The older players got away for a lead of 11 to 4 in the first two innings before the sophs began to get use to playing to-gether but after that the scoring was fairly even until the end. The pitching was very good on both sides and each team boasted of several heavy men with the stick.

HERE IS THE SECRET OF BUYING WITHOUT CASH
All you have to do is see a member of your class executive and sign a sheet which he gives you—at the end of the year you will receive a nicely bound copy of the McGill Annual. No cash is involved in the transaction—the price of the book is deducted from your caution money.—What's in the book?—See to-morrow's Daily.

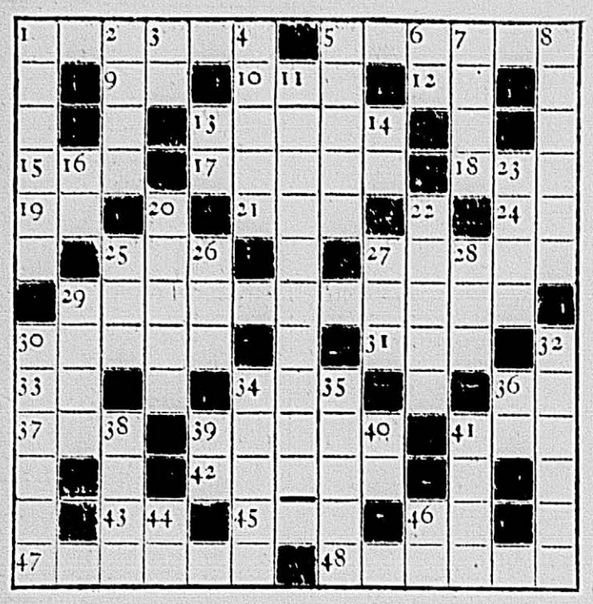
The Daily's Original Cross-word Puzzle



If you crave sane sensible simplicity in a cross word puzzle tear this up and return to your lecture. We have discovered several new printers' measures, notably E O (9 horizontal) the three hundredth part of an EM. Also O A M (25 vertical) which equals four EO's or approximately seventy-one TY's (40 vertical). It is doubtful if you can recall 27 Horizontal, the war cry of Olaf XII, so we give it: "B O Q E X!"

HORIZONTAL

1—The usual way of taking notes.
5—An elephant, a man, or a horse or . . .
9—Printer's measure.
10—A head and a tail.
12—The province with a fence around it.
13—Six bucks a couple.
15—Naughty! naughty!!
17—Not Walter.
18—If you spell it rightly its an archbishop if wrongly its Yale (spell it rightly)
19—Printer's measure.
21—"No more Thanks" (abbrev. seldom used).
24—The part of the neck you get it.
25—Mating cry of 30 horizontal.
27—War cry of Olaf XII.
29—Spheres thrown in baskets.
30—The Goldberg bird.
31—Plat. 0078.
33—A well known Quebec complaint.
34—Co-eds overcoat.
36—Generally precede "John" Stop."
37—Not as good as cash.
39—A riot (two words).
41—Mediaeval mendicant meandering—oh hell, its "Fra".
42—Cockney father calling his infant child.
43—The first two letters of Eggnog and also of egg.
45—Pro Bono Universitatie.
46—"You know me."
47—Guess you didn't expect this, its so——.
48—Colour, usually found in streaks.

VERTICAL

1—What your notes are like if taken at 1 Horizontal.
2—The way to spend an evening.
3—To get the better of.
4—"Pro Bono Universitatie."
5—The Registrars occasionally do this to High School Graduates.
6—24 Horizontal.
7—If you didn't get one at 31 horizontal, try your luck here.
8—The home of the warble, the yodel and the trill.
11—Students cry for them.
13—Any afternoon
14—A chemical abbreviation (We'll tell you this one, Its "SW").
16—A metric unit (abbrev).
20—Have you paid your heart's delight one of these recently?
22—The best thing to do to cross-word puzzles.
23—What the light does in a woman's eyes.
25—Its hard to get up in.
26—Hooded horde of haunting hooligans.
27—"Pig and Whistle."
28—The best place to get it at. Ask any American. . . .
29—The Beta Kappa Tau Omega Fraternity (abbrev).
30—Cross-word puzzle addicts.
32—Everybody has one.
34—A famous race. . .
35—Pertaining to mobs.(Make this one up. We did).
36—Spell it rightly its an alternative. (If you spell it wrongly it might be anything).
38—Second-hand.
39—What a few nights cramming will give you in the U.S.A.
40—Painters measure.
41—What most of us do for Gertrude Laurence.
44—A red-hot abbreviation. (Keep it to yourself).
46—46 Horizontal. (not a printer's measure.)

AT THE CAMBRIDGE—TORONTO DEBATE

At the recent Cambridge-Toronto Debate, Mr. Milne opened the discussion for Varsity with the remark that Oxford was better known in Toronto than was Cambridge, but that after the debate the fame of Cambridge would no doubt be considerably widened. The Leader for Cambridge replied that in view of this it might be well to give two differences between the two Universities. "Oxford," he said, "is a university for gentlemen's sons, while Cambridge is a university for gentlemen. Secondly, an Oxford man walks down the street as though he owns it, while a Cambridge man walks down the same street as though he doesn't give a damn who owns it."

Tourist—Bother! We've climbed to the top of this mountain to see the view, and we've forgotten the glasses.

Scottish Guide—Och! Never mind, there's nobody aboot. We can just drink oot o' the bottle.

Last day of lectures before Christmas

The late James Welch, the actor, used to tell a delightful story. He was once staying in rooms, while touring with "When Knights Were Bold," and he gave his landlady a ticket for the piece. She was not a regular theatre-goer, and evidently thought it was an occasion to be on her best behaviour. When she brought in his breakfast the next morning, he asked her how she had enjoyed herself.

"Very much, Mr. Welch, thank you," she said "very much indeed, but I tell you straight it was all I could do to keep from laughing half the time!"

A young girl returned home to her parents, after sitting for her school musical examination. They asked her how she had done.

"Very well, I think," she answered. "Quite a nice man—and so religious!"

"Religious!" How could you tell?"

"In the middle of one of my pieces he put his head in his hands, and said, 'Oh!, my God!' very reverenty."

UNION HOUSE DANCE PLANS ANNOUNCED

room will not be too crowded for dancing. The reduced price of the tickets should put them within the reach of everybody, so that those wishing to attend would do well to obtain their tickets as soon as possible. They will be put on sale at the beginning of the week.

This will be the last important social event before Christmas and if the anticipations of the Committee in charge are fulfilled, it should prove an excellent finish to a most successful fall.

"Why dont you take the Marbles out of your Mouth?"

INCREDIBLE as it may seem, an employee of a downtown Cafeteria was heard to make the above remark to a customer. The latter asked for Vermicelli and the waiter thought he said bromo-selzer. A waiter has a trying life at times, nevertheless altercation with customers is not justified under any circumstance.

If You're Wrong You're Right

in the Union Cafeteria. That is the maxim of the United Hotels and I include it as part of my policy. Politeness is a feature of my service. My employees know that they profit according to their effort.
In the Union Cafeteria you need have no fear of getting sedatives for soup.
